

GLOBAL YOUNG
ACADEMY

Leopoldina
Nationale Akademie
der Wissenschaften

The Global Young Academy (GYA) was founded in 2010 with the vision to give a voice to young scientists around the world. The GYA empowers early-career researchers to lead international and interdisciplinary initiatives and projects, and to engage in intergenerational dialogue by developing and mobilising talent from six continents. The academy is hosted by the German National Academy of Sciences Leopoldina.

If you are interested in working with a dedicated team in Halle for early-career researchers from around the world and broadening your perspectives dramatically, this is an excellent opportunity.

Start date: as soon as possible

Duration: Initially for six months, with good possibility for extension to up to two years

Location: German National Academy of Sciences Leopoldina, Halle (Saale), Germany

Student Assistant (m/f/d) Graphics- and Web-Design (Reference 22-02)

Job description

- Preparing media for the website and social media (e.g., photo, audio and video editing)
- Applying and further developing the design of the annual publications and occasional conference or working group reports
- Producing/designing images, clips, gifs, social media postcards

Job requirements

- Ongoing academic education in a relevant course (e.g. graphic design, communication design)
- Experienced in audio and video editing and media design (using Adobe software, especially Photoshop and Illustrator (creating vector graphics)
- Experienced user of InDesign (Layout work for publications, from new project to print-ready)
- Fluent command of English
- International interest and experience, intercultural sensitivity and competencies, good written and verbal communication skills, creativity, good presentation and self-organisation

The contract is for at least 12 hours, and up to a max. 13 hours per weeks (depending on the availability of the applicant). GYA and Leopoldina are an equal opportunities employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment.

We have a commitment to a diverse workforce. We welcome applicants from any nationalities who fulfil the job requirements.

If this advertisement has aroused your interest, please send your complete application documents to the e-mail address bewerbung@leopoldina.org by 10th April 2022. Application costs cannot be reimbursed. The announcement is subject to possible budgetary restrictions.

For further information, please consult www.globalyoungacademy.net.